

The main differences between python 2 and python 3

Python 2	Python 3
Strings are stored in ASCII by default	Text strings are unicode by default
In division, it rounds the calculations to the nearest whole number	In division, the calculations are produced as expected
Print statement without brackets	Print statement is written with brackets